Animals are typically categorized as unavailable for adoption for the following reasons:

- They are new to the shelter and undergoing medical procedures, health evaluations, behavioral evaluations, or need some time to decompress.
- They are undergoing a mandatory hold
- They are a SafePet animal seeking refuge in our shelter
- They are protective custody animal cruelty investigation. These dogs are technically not our dogs to adopt out. We are going through the legal system to have the current owner or the court to sign the pet over to us.

LESLIE UPDATE

From her adopter: She has really filled out. She still struggles with some separation anxiety, but it is manageable. But other than that she is the best dog. She is so sweet. She goes to doggy daycare a few times a week and they just love her. My sister works from home so she usually goes to her house a few times a week and her whole family adores her. She loves going for walks and loves her treats. She really is the sweetest and everyone that meets her falls in love with her

PEACH UPDATE

From Kyra's, formerly known as Peach's, adopter: Kyra is an absolute sweetheart. She has adjusted very well in her new home and with her brother Archie. Kyra loves riding in the car, laying in dog beds, going on long walks, and making sure no squirrels come in her yard. Oh, and she is a bed hog...lol. She just completed Obedience I with flying colors and we are currently working towards her CGCA.
